BEFORE ME. JUSTICE ACKEOYD. J. J. Buchheister v. George Willis, $400.

IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

Mr. Mossop appeared for the plaintiff; the defendant conducted his own case. Mr. Mossop said the action was brought here by Messrs. Sander & Co., who held a power of attorney from Mr. Buchhelster. The claim was for the value of a case of rifles delivered short in a consignment of 50 cases brought by the British steamer Timor. In answer to his Lordship, Captain Willis said his defence was that the bill of lading had not been signed by him, and it appeared by that bill that they had received on board for carriage 50 cases of rifles, all being mark "B. R." On the arrival of the Timor at this port 49 cases bearing this mark had been delivered to the plaintiff's agent, and another case marked "S. N." had been tendered to him, but he had refused to take delivery of it. There was a clause in the bill of lading which provided that the ship was not responsible if the cases were delivered not properly and we had consequently to send the goods to the agenta' godown, and it was some days afterwards that I first heard of this. Mr. Mossop then opened the plaintiff's case. He said that Mosers. Sander & Co. were the He claim a lien. In this case the shares were in agents for the plaintiff in this colony, and some ame ago they were instructed by the plaintiff to take delivery of these cases of rifles from the Timor. They then sent to Measrs. Russell & Co., the agents for the steamer, and received delivery of the cases of rifles, two cases short. After some time one of the missing cases was found and sent to Mesers. Sander & Co., the other was not discovered. And after some negociations his clients applied to Captain Willia about the matter, and received from him a lettor to the following effect-"Your letter claiming a case of rifles transhipped from New York has been handed to me by Messrs Russell & Co., and since neither my agents nor I have seen the bill of lading, neither did my officers take it on board in London, I cannot entertain your claim client hereafter. until I have had time to communicate with London," At that time Messrs. Sander & Co. had only the original bill of lading from New York in their possession, not the bill of lading signed for the Timor in London. They were consequently unable to act until they had written to their principal, in Shanghai. They then got the bill of lading signed in London which the captain denied having signed, and at the same time they received instructions to proceed immediately to recover the value of the missing case. In the meantime the Timor had left the harbour, and his clients had never heard a word from $22.15 on the 26th inst. the defendant, although they had written to The complainant stated she was walking in him applying for the money, and to the agents Bonham Strand, near the Harbour Office, at for the vessel in London. THE CHARGE OF UNLICENSED LIQUOR Joseph Steinhurdt, restaurant keeper, of 92 Queen's road Central appeared, on remand, charged by P.S. Butlin with unlicensed liquor

It will be remembered that Butlin raided the louse and seized various bottles of liquor, and one witness deposed to buying brandy and wine in the house. The following further evidence was now adduced. Robert Cansima, describing himself as roker and trader, said that last mouth he bough a bottle of wine of the defendant for 50 cents. The wine was claret, and was bad. He told the defondant it was so bad that it made him sick whereupon the defendant became angry, and they had a row. About ten days ago witness had a glass of brandy of the defendant, which was served in a cup, and he was charged 30 cents for He had another row, and the defendant abused him, and offered another man $5 to throw him out and give him a licking. Witness was now afraid of his life. He went into the Hospital last Saturday and came out a few days ago; he did not stop there any longer as the Hospital was bad. for the assistance of some of our colonies. The recent generous action of our Australian brothren in reference to the Soudan campaign sufficiently proves that their patriotism is a good deal more than a name, and their action then may be taken as an earnest of what they would do were the Empire attacked. That they are fully alive to the necessity of defending their own ports is Malwa (Old) amply shown in the progress made during the

of about 600 artillerymen, a torpodo company, and a small naval brigade. Melbourne has several ships, the nucleus, in fact, of a small navy, and Adelaide has voted money for increasing her defences. There is a disposition on the part of the Home Government to take this matter up, and we earnestly trust that it will suffer no delay. The appointment of Major Glancy, R.E., to the department of the Inspector-General of Fortifications, with the view of inspecting and reporting fully on this subject, is a step in the right direction, and we hope that nothing will be permitted to delay his progress in this vital matter. The complications which have recently arisen in European politics may contain elements of disturbance that might embroil our country. He said that he would not discuss the political question as to the propriety of Germany forming colonies, but would point out how wide was the scope for scientific investigation into the subject, an inquiry which might influence State measures. He drew attention to the Amsterdam Congress of Colonial Medicine last year as evidence of the growing desire to learn more concerning the conditions of life and the changes experienced in the human organism under altered climatic influences. When an individual goes guism rogain its, equilibrium; he has accommodated himself to new conditions; his organ have ondered material change; he suffers from climatic indisposition or disease. Although the the subject, yet researches upon the special changes that precede the enset of disease are entirely wanting. On the other hand, the clinical vanced. Whoever studies acclimatisation must do so with a view to establish certain geographical limits of ethnological provinces analogous to botanical and zoological provinces. The Professor next proceeded to inquire how far the white races were known to be capable of ac- 5±. climatisation, and showed that the Semitic were much more capable of it than the Aryan races: and amongst Aryans, the southerners (Portuguese, Spanish, Maltese, &c.) were more so than the northerners. Mixed races with strong Semitic admixture are more easily arclimatised than the pure Aryan stock. These races have developed in North America, the French in English in Australia, but not in its northern, hotter parts. All these inhabit latitudes not far removed from the European, and yet they often become sterile, and the population decreases. Individuals born in the new country of the immigrant population never exceed three generations-for example, the English in India; and in spite of attempts to consolidate the Aryan colonisation of the Indies by means of sanitary measures, it does not succeed. Medical officers of the navy and merchant service, and others. should study these conditions in the light o physiology. What is it that is most at fault! Is tropical ansemis a diminished formation or an increased destruction of blood? Tropical ansemia is found not only in regions where malaria, pernicions relapsing fever, dysentery, or yellow fever pravails, but it occurs apart from these diseases. This increase in blood disintegration excites a great tendency to diseases of the liver, and the chorage was a queer exhibition of superstition on liver is the main point of attack for diseases of the part of the natives. In some cases the fact that the sufferer is treated for the wrong complaint is known in sufficient time to admit of the patient being saved, and the following is a case in point:-

little-more than two years ago, a beautiful young lady in New York was given up to die of consumption. Her fond parents took her to Paris as a last resort, hoping to find some skilful physician there capable of arresting the rapid strides of the supposed dreadful disease. In this their hopes were blighted, but fortunately away in that distant foreign city they met with a description of a new method of treating Dyspensia, which emanated from the Mount Liebanon Shakers of the State of New York, The thought struck the parents of this helpless young girl that perhaps their daughter was afflicted with Indigestion or Dyspepsia, and not com-sumption; and if so, there might be a chance for

The country is full of suffering thousands that are being treated for Liver Complaint, Malaria, Kidnoy Discase, Lung Disorders, &c., &c., when the fact is they are afflicted with Indigestion in some of its varied forms, and all of such sufferers would obtain relief if they were properly treated for Dyspepsic.
